Dear colleagues & friends,

It is our pleasure to announce that the 14th Annual National Conference of Indian Society of Neuroanaesthesiology and Critical Care (ISNNACC) is going to be held from 8th to 10th February, 2013 at IMS, BHU Varanasi (UP), India. The conference will bring some of the world pioneers in the field of Neuroanaesthesiology and Neuro Intensive Care to present their clinical experiences and research findings. It will provide an opportunity for the delegates to interact closely with some of the outstanding international and national experts.

According to legend, the Kashi was founded by the Hindu deity Lord Shiva, several thousand years ago, thus making it one of the most important Hindu pilgrimage destinations in the country. It is also a general belief that Kashi rests on the “Trishul” of Lord Shiva. It is one of the seven sacred cities of Hindus in India. The city finds a prominent mention in many Hindu scriptures, including the Rigveda, Skanda Purana, Ramayana, and the Mahabharata etc.

We, the members of the organizing committee, endeavour to offer a unique platform to exchange information, share professional experiences and review techniques and methods used in our day to day clinical practice. On behalf of the Division of Neuroanaesthesiology, Dept of Anaesthesiology, we cordially invite you to participate in this grand event and look forward to welcoming you at Varanasi.

Call for Papers

Abstracts for platform and poster presentations can be submitted by email. Only best 16 abstracts selected by the Scientific Committee will be asked for oral presentation in two sessions of eight each. Other abstracts will have to be presented as posters. A maximum of two abstracts are permitted per delegate. Use separate abstract format or photocopy for each abstract. Only those papers will be included for presentation and printed in the proceeding book where the presenting author has registered for the conference no later than 31st December 2012.

Abstracts should not exceed 250 words. Accepted abstracts will be printed after thorough review in the conference proceeding book and no separate permission will be sought from the authors. The author will remain responsible for the contents of the article. Abstracts received after the definite date will not be considered.
