About Banaras Hindu University

Banaras Hindu University (BHU) is an internationally renowned institution of higher learning situated in the holy city of Varanasi. Founded in 1916 by the great nationalist leader Pandit Madan Mohan Malaviya. BHU was established under the B.H.U. Act, 1915, enacted by the Parliament.

The University played a significant role in India's freedom movement and has evolved into one of the country's foremost centres of education and research. The main campus extends over 1,300 acres, featuring well-planned roads, lush green landscapes, a temple, an airstrip, and architecturally significant buildings. Another campus at Barkachha, Mirzapur, spread across 2,700 acres, is being developed.

BHU comprises 6 Institutes, 14 Faculties, 144 Departments, 4 Interdisciplinary Centres, one constituent Women's College, and 3 constituent schools, covering a wide spectrum of disciplines in humanities, social sciences, science, technology, medicine, fine arts, and performing arts. The University also houses 6 Centres of Advanced Studies, 10 Departments under the Special Assistance Programme, and several specialized research centres.

The renowned Bharat Kala Bhavan Museum preserves an invaluable collection of rare artefacts. The University's 927-bed Sir Sunderlal Hospital is equipped with modern healthcare facilities. BHU also offers excellent infrastructure for sports, recreation, cultural activities, and research, including large playgrounds, an auditorium, a flying club, publication facilities, subsidized canteens, and numerous student support services.
