

Announcement for the Training Programme

A One Week Training Programme on “Discovering Statistics by MS Excel and SPSS for Biological and other Sciences” (Hybrid Mode) scheduled to be held on Dec. 17-23, 2021 for research scholars and young faculty members, at DST - Centre for Interdisciplinary Mathematical Sciences (CIMS), Institute of Science, Banaras Hindu University (BHU), Varanasi. The programme is being convened by Dr. Raghavendra Chaubey, Associate Professor, DST-CIMS, Institute of Science, BHU and Dr. Rakesh Ranjan, Assistant Professor, DST-CIMS, Institute of Science, BHU.

The One Week programme, broadly includes topics such as Descriptive Statistics, Inferential Statistics (Testing), Experimental Design and Factor Analysis. Well versed and experienced faculties/experts from various academic institutions may be part of the speakers.

In this regard, the interested participants are requested to fill the attached registration form and send back the scanned application form, duly endorsed by the Head of Department/Supervisor, to rchaubey@bhu.ac.in on or before 04.12.2021. The selected participants shall be informed accordingly through e-mail on 06.12.2021. The registration fee for the above mentioned programme will be Rs. 3000/- (Rupees Three Thousand Only), which is to be submitted after the selection for the programme, on or before 11.12.2021, in the office of DST - Centre for Interdisciplinary Mathematical Sciences (CIMS). The maximum numbers of seats are 45 (Forty Five Only).

As, hand-on computerized training for data analysis will be part of the training, therefore, each SELECTED participant (who joins the programme through offline mode) will be provided a desktop computer, during programme. Most of the Training will be given on software like MS-Excel and SPSS by Prof. Gyan Prakash Singh, Department of Statistics, Institute of Science, BHU.

In case of any query the contact numbers are 09919267475 (Dr. Raghavendra Chaubey, Associate Professor, DST-CIMS, Institute of Science, BHU) and 09453222776 (Dr. Rakesh Ranjan, Assistant Professor, DST-CIMS, Institute of Science, BHU). Only digitized version of the application will be accepted.
